Code of Conduct – FD Business Service Pvt. Ltd.

Effective Date: 1st April.'2026
Approved By: FDBS Top Management
Applies To: All employees, trainees, and temporary staff of FD Business Service Pvt. Ltd.

1. Purpose

This Code of Conduct defines the expected standards of professional behavior and ethics at FD Business Service Pvt. Ltd. It serves as a guide for all employees to maintain integrity, professionalism, and compliance with company policies, client requirements, and applicable laws.

2. Core Values

Our work culture is built around four principles:

1. Integrity – Being honest and transparent in all dealings.
2. Confidentiality – Protecting customer and company data at all times.
3. Respect – Treating others with dignity regardless of position, gender, or background.
4. Accountability – Taking ownership of tasks, results, and behavior.

3. Detailed Conduct Guidelines

A. Attendance & Punctuality

Rule: Employees must report to work on time, adhere to shift schedules, and follow the Workforce Management (WFM) roster for breaks and login/logout.
Why: Punctuality ensures smooth call flow, minimal wait time for customers, and fair workload distribution.
How:

1. Arrive at least 10 minutes before shift to log in and prepare.
2. Inform your manager in advance for any planned leave.

3. Emergency absences must be reported within 1 hour of shift start.
4. No Call No Show (NCNS) for more than 3 consecutive working days = Absconding (processed as per Exit Policy).

B. Dress Code & Personal Appearance

Purpose:
The dress code ensures that employees maintain a professional and presentable appearance that reflects positively on FD Business Service Pvt. Ltd., creates a comfortable work environment, and upholds client expectations for our call centre operations.

Casual Dress Guidelines

For Men:

1. Acceptable: Chinos, trousers, or jeans paired with shirts, polo shirts, t-shirts, or short kurtas.
2. Footwear: Comfortable closed-toe shoes or sandals are encouraged.
3. Not Allowed: Pajamas, slippers, or any attire that appears unprofessional.

For Women:

1. Acceptable: Kurta sets, suits, short kurtas, casual dresses or skirts (knee-length), jeans paired with shirts or smart tops.
2. Footwear: Shoes, ballerinas, sneakers, or sandals are appropriate.
3. Not Allowed: Short skirts/dresses above the knee, crop tops, or tank tops.

Additional Guidelines:

- Clothing should be clean, neat, and in good condition.
- Offensive graphics, slogans, or symbols on clothing are strictly prohibited.
- Certain clients may have stricter dress requirements; in such cases, the client's policy will take precedence and be communicated in advance.

Why This Matters:
A neat and professional appearance not only helps maintain a respectful work atmosphere but also ensures that employees are prepared for potential client visits, virtual meetings, or video training sessions at any time.

C. Workplace Behavior

Rule: Treat colleagues, managers, customers, and visitors with courtesy and respect at all times.
Why: Call centers are high-pressure environments; professionalism reduces conflicts and boosts teamwork.
How:

- Avoid aggressive or disrespectful language.
- Collaborate with team members, assist peers if needed.
- Zero tolerance for harassment, discrimination, or bullying (refer to POSH Policy).

D. Data Security & Confidentiality

Rule: Protect customer and company data, use only authorized systems, and maintain login security.
Why: Breach of confidentiality can lead to loss of business, legal action, and damage to company reputation.
How:

1. Do not share passwords or system access with anyone.
2. Avoid writing down customer details outside the authorized CRM.
3. Personal devices (mobiles, USB drives) are prohibited in call floors unless authorized.
4. Follow “Clean Desk” policy — no customer data on paper or visible screens.

E. Use of Company Property

Rule: Handle all company assets with care and return them upon exit.
Why: Equipment costs are high, and damage affects operations.
How:

1. Keep headsets, laptops, and access cards in good condition.
2. Report damage or malfunction immediately.
3. Assets lost/damaged due to negligence may be recovered from salary.

F. Performance & Quality Standards

Rule: Meet or exceed agreed performance metrics (sales conversion, AHT, quality scores, adherence).
Why: Consistent performance ensures client satisfaction and job security.
How:

1. Follow scripts and compliance statements.
2. Participate in coaching sessions.
3. Avoid unnecessary after-call work (ACW) delays.

G. Prohibited Conduct

- Misuse of CRM/customer data.
- Manipulating call logs or performance metrics.
- Harassment or abuse (verbal, physical, written).
- Use of alcohol, drugs, or reporting to work under influence.
- Bringing weapons or dangerous items to the workplace.
- Sleeping during work hours unless authorized (night shift rest break).

H. Communication & Social Media

Rule: Keep all official communication professional; do not post company/client information online.
Why: Public statements can affect company reputation and breach contracts.
How:

- Only authorized spokespeople may interact with media.
- No sharing of customer complaints or internal matters on personal social media.

I. Conflict of Interest

Rule: Avoid situations where personal interests conflict with company interests.
Why: Bias affects decision-making and may breach client trust.
How:

- Disclose if you or a family member have a business or employment relationship with a competitor.

---

4. Disciplinary Action Process

Violations are categorized:

- Minor (late login, dress code breach) → Verbal/written warning.
- Major (misconduct, data breach) → Suspension, termination, legal action.
  Each case will be investigated and documented before action.

5. Reporting Violations

- Misconduct/ Harassment may be reported to Manager or HR.
- All reports will be confidential and investigated promptly.
